I appreciate the prompt response. Roof work was currently underway when I stopped by the store earlier this morning to purchase some items. It appeared most of the work was being done above the Subway restaurant and Grab N' Go section. There were still visible white particles on fruits and vegetables in the Produce department. Also, there was still no signage or preventative measures in place to protect associates or customers. I already reported this to OSHA but while conducting my research, I discovered through the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) website that Store #131 is listed under two separate counties (Franklin and Titus), and this discrepancy is also reflected in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's ECHO database (https://echo.epa.gov/detailed-facility-report?fid=[redacted]). Please do not hesitate to reach out if you require any additional information.
