Good morning Kyle,

The city has the right to display the leadership circle award; it conveys no contract or endorsement from the Comptroller's office and they legitimately received the award in the past. They are representing a prior achievement that they did earn, how they decide to advertise that award is up to them.

Recognition of an entity with a for Leadership Circle does not constitute an endorsement by the State of Texas or any of its agencies; (2) that participation in the Leadership Circle Program is entirely voluntary and does not create a contract between the entity and the State of Texas or any of its agencies

To clarify:

Transparency only collects the reports and insures they are submitted in the form or manner prescribed by the comptroller's office we have no enforcement authority for this report as the legislature did not provide for penalty in the original bill. If they have no report for the years you searched in our database it means we do not have responsive information for those years. I appreciate you reaching out to our office as a constituent and we will be following up to make sure the city has the opportunity to get their records up to date. I will let you know once we receive them so you can have them for your records. Please feel free to reach out to me by phone or email if you have other concerns.

Kind regards,
